

University of New Haven

Practitioner in Residence (PIR)
Department of Psychology - Clinical Mental Health Counseling Program
College of Arts & Sciences
Search # 22-29F

Description:

The University of New Haven is seeking applications for a non-tenure-track, Practitioner in Residence position in the Department of Psychology's Clinical Mental Health Counseling (CMHC) Program beginning in Fall 2022. This is a full-time position whose primary responsibilities will consist of teaching in the counselor education program.

The successful applicant for this position will teach selected graduate courses in counselor education and contribute actively and effectively to student growth, service, and program development.

With a remote working option, the successful candidate will teach a 18-24-credit load of CMHC courses during the academic year. Responsibilities will also include student advisement, course development and maintenance activities, recruitment and retention activities, attending and assisting at on-campus residencies, synchronous meeting requirements, and supporting program/departmental projects and accreditation activities.

Required Qualifications:

- An earned doctorate from a CACREP-accredited Counselor Education & Supervision doctoral program by the time of the appointment (August 2022)
- A clear and well articulated counselor education identity
- Current state licensure and/or ability to obtain counseling licensure
- Direct experience in clinical mental health counseling service provision
- Online graduate level teaching experience
- A commitment to issues of social justice advocacy and diversity
- Excellent communication, collaboration, organization, and interpersonal skills

Preferred Qualifications:

- Prior experience supervising master's level counseling trainees
- Substantial experience teaching in an online environment
- Experience developing online course content

Diversity and Inclusion:

The University of New Haven is committed to diversity and inclusion in higher education. The University seeks candidates whose teaching, research and/or service has prepared them to contribute diversity and inclusion in our academic community. Applicants are asked to submit a diversity and inclusion statement explaining how their teaching, scholarship and/or service, contributes to building and supporting diverse and inclusive communities.

Application Process:

Application materials should include a cover letter of interest addressing all the qualifications for the position, current curriculum vitae, a diversity and inclusion statement, and three letters of professional reference. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. All materials should be submitted online at: <http://apply.interfolio.com/108572>

Founded in 1920, UNH is a private, top-tier, comprehensive university with an 80-acre main campus. UNH has an enrollment of more than 5,900: approximately 1,700 graduate students and more than 4,200 undergraduates, 70 percent of whom reside in university housing. The University offers more than 80 undergraduate degrees and more than 25 graduate degrees through its five colleges. Conveniently located near downtown New Haven, the University provides employees with a comprehensive benefit package and a professional, productive and pleasant work environment. Women and minority candidates are encouraged to apply. The University of New Haven is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer.

The University of New Haven is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employer.